VOLUNTEER PLEDGES IN W. S. DRIVE

Campaign in Dixon on Same Lines as the Red Cross Drive

POLLS OPEN ON MONDAY

People Are Expected to Call at Polls and Sign Up for Amounts

Because the people of Dixon township established a record which gave them flattering publicity throughout the country when they voluntarily subscribed the township's quota of the recent Red Cross war fund, the committee in charge of the War Savings Stamp campaign here has determined to conduct the drive in the same manner—and there is every confidence that the wires can carry the message late Monday evening that Dixon has duplicated her former magnificent record.

Accordingly, from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. Monday there will be W. S. S. workers at each of the eleven polling places in the township, and the citizens of the township are counted upon to call at the polling place they usually vote at some time during the day and sign their pledges to purchase a stated amount of War Savings Stamps between the present and Dec. 31, 1918.

Not Immediate Purchases
The campaign is not to boost the present sale of stamps. Rather it is to have the citizens sign pledge cards to purchase a designated amount of the stamps before the end of the year. Lee county's quota of W. S. S. sales for the year will be $550,000, and the allotment to Dixon township is $140,000. By 9 o'clock Monday night the people of the community should—and undoubtedly will—have signed.

POSSIBLE CLUE FOUND IN STEWARD ROBBERY

Officials Are Searching for Owners of Strange Car Seen Near There

HAVE THE LICENSE NO.

Officials are following a clue which may eventually lead to the apprehension of the cracksmen who blew the safe of the Shearer bank at Steward, A. Landis, who resides near that place, has reported to the officers that the morning before the robbery he found two strangers sleeping along a fence on his farm. Their car, a new Dodge, stood nearby and when they awakened they refused to answer any of Mr. Landis' questions, but hurriedly jumped into the car and drove away.

Suspicious because of their refusal to talk and their haste to get away, Mr. Landis took the license number of the car, 328217, and has reported it to the officers. Inquiry of Secretary of State Emmerson shows that the license of that number was issued to a Chicago woman for a Chandler car. The fact that the license appears on a Dodge machine now adds suspicion to the car and its occupants and detectives of the bankers' protective association are now at work on the case.

U.S.-SLAV ARMY TO SAVE RUSSIA, PLAN OF SENATE PROPOSAL

May Send Sons of Russia Across Pacific Half a Million Strong

A VOLUNTEER LEGION

Washington, D. C., June 20.—Under circumstances of the utmost significance in connection with the possibility of early intervention by the allies in Siberia the senate committee on military affairs adopted today an amendment to the army appropriation bill authorizing the commander in chief to raise a volunteer legion of Slavic residents of the United States for service abroad. The amendment has the approval of President Wilson.

The president is empowered to send the Slavic legion, which may number eventually 500,000 men, to any "field of action" against "the common enemy."

The amendment was intentionally phrased so as to permit the dispatch of the Slavic legion to Siberia as a part of the American forces which will be sent across the Pacific if Mr. Wilson yields to the appeals for intervention to drive the Germans out of Russia.

Sentiment for Intervention Grows
Sentiment is growing in congress in favor of allied intervention in Siberia. Senator Sherman of Illinois in a speech in the senate today uttered the warning that "watchful waiting" will be more disastrous in dealing with Germany than with Mexico. Chairman Hitchcock of the foreign relations committee and Senator King took occasion to deny that Japan is pressing for intervention and hesitating only for lack of American consent.

President Wilson's approval of the amendment creating the Slavic legion followed the executive's conference yesterday with Prof. Massaryk, the Bohemian revolutionary leader, who brought information of the assistance that could be rendered intervention by the 100,000 Poles and Czechoslovaks, now in Russia, who are being armed by the allies.

NEW WORK OR FIGHT REGULATIONS GIVEN EXEMPTION BOARDS

Provost Marshal General Crowder Issues Explanation of Ruling

MEN GIVEN A CHANCE

Local Boards Will Assist All Registrants to Find Useful Employment

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, June 21.—New regulations issued to draft boards today by Provost Marshal General Crowder to govern the application of work or fight orders do not rule specifically upon the status of professional baseball players or other classes which may be affected but emphasize the section which places games and sports among the occupations classed as non-useful.

In an oral statement announcing the regulations, officials of General Crowder's office said: "At present the occupation of baseball playing is regarded as non-productive, but until a case is appealed from a local board no ruling on baseball players will be made by the Provost Marshal General."

"Local boards will consider cases of withdrawal of deferred classes commensurate," Gen. Crowder's instructions say, and they name illness, vacations and the impossibility of securing productive employment without change of residence as reasonable grounds for waiving the general order.

While sales clerks in stores and clerical workers in offices are classed as non-productive, local boards are directed to exempt department store executives and skilled workers attached to such establishments. The traveling salesman is considered to be engaged in productive enterprise, but automobile salesmen living and working in cities will not be considered. Public or private chauffeurs are held to be non-producers only when they combine other work with their mechanical duties.

Local boards are asked to assist registrants affected to obtain new employment through the federal employment service, and are given the power to postpone action on registrants while they are seeking employment held to be productive.

Rioting and Strikes in Suburbs of Vienna—Trouble Spreading

IS GREATEST OF CRISES

Unrest Gets Beyond the Control of Civil Authorities

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Riots are reported in the suburbs of Vienna and 100,000 workmen, many of them from important war munitions plants, are on strike. The situation is apparently growing beyond the control of the civil authorities and martial law in the Austrian capitol is not unlikely. The workmen continue to demand more bread and the agitation is rapidly spreading to other parts of the empire.

Advices to neutral countries say that the present crisis is the most serious the Austrian government has faced and that there is very grave apprehension throughout the nation for the outcome.

Germany appears to be unable to help because she is confronted with a serious food situation herself.

BRITISH OFFICER IN INTERESTING TALK AT MEETING IN ASHTON

Major K. B. Ferguson of British Army, Tells How War Is Waged

AT FRANKLIN GROVE

Veteran Soldier, Who Went Into Belgium, August, 1914, Tells Story

Major K.B. Ferguson of the British army, an officer in the heavy artillery who went into Belgium with the first hundred thousand in August, 1914, was the speaker at a splendid meeting last night in Ashton. Many hundreds of persons heard his fine address and were inspired by it. The major has been wounded, and has had trench fever, from which he is even now convalescent, and has seen the war and been a part of it. A. W. Rosecrans presided at the meeting. The Lafayette band, the famous old body of musicians organized in 1879, played fine and stirring pieces. Miss Ruth Celler, accompanied by her sister, Miss Nellie, sang very sweetly, an dthe Dixon Male quartette, composed of Dr. Willard Thompson, I. B. Hoefler, Harry Roe and Barry Lennon, sang patriotic songs. Edward Valle, chairman of the Lee County Finance committee which is organizing the War Savings drive in this county, made a pleasing and forceful address, giving the people of Ashton and vicinity an idea of their duties to this cause and the many other war relief movements.

Major Ferguson's talk dwelt very largely with the problems confronting the war, showing the enormous expenditure of money and energy that has been necessary to Great Britain and that is now necessary in this country. He said that Great Britain alone, not counting the colonies, had contributed 5,500,000 men to the war and besides financing her end of the war, had loaned $6,000,000,000 to the allies. He said that in England the people are doing without butter, can buy no candy, and have but a pound and a quarter of meat per person per week. He explained the great and noble work and sacrifice being made by the old men and girls in England, who are doing the work of the nation, in addition to manufacturing the munitions and supplies necessary for the men at the front.

Without the British army the war could not have lasted a week, Major Ferguson said, and without the British navy and the allied navies now, the war would end in a week, and he admonished his hearers to be truly thankful for the great work of the navies, which made it possible to get the fighting men to France, maintain them there, and keep the war going.

The three worst things about modern warfare, none of which can be realized by those who have not seen them, and which cannot be shown in their awfulness by pictures, according to the British officer, are mud, wire and gas.

There are five things the Germans must do before they can win the war, said Major Ferguson. He listed them as follows:

"Destroy the French army, which is looking very lively just now.

Destroy the British army, which is also looking very lively.

Destroy the Italian army, which is looking very lively.

Destroy the American army, which is looking livelier all the time.

Sink the allied navy."

If they can do that, they might win this war. But Major Ferguson sees very little likelihood of the Hun accomplishing all this.

Pledges Saturday.

The committee in Ashton has decided to open headquarters in the city hall tomorrow, Saturday, all day from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m., and ask everyone in the township to come to the hall Saturday and sign the War Savings pledge for the amount they feel able to subscribe.

In Franklin Tonight.

Major Ferguson will speak this evening in Franklin Grove; a great crowd is expected to hear his message from the trenches of Europe.

Class Met.

A class meeting, pleasant socially and with transaction of some business, was held by the members of the Sunshine class of St. Paul's Sunday school with Mrs. Frank Fisher of Eastern avenue last evening. Mrs. Fisher was assisted in entertaining by Mesdames Bremer, Stevens and Miller the 60 members and friends of the class.

After the devotional opening and singing of America in unison, a program of musical numbers and readings was given. Readings were given by Misses Josephine Whitish, Marjorie Greer and Mabel Kay, a piano solo by Mrs. Bremer, violin solo by Miss Leona Fisher and two instrumental duets by Mrs. Vernie Lengel and Miss Ruth Missman. Every number was greatly enjoyed. The national colors had received an especially attractive arrangement in decorating the house. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Mrs. Charles Horner of Chicago attended the barn dance last evening at the Hugo Hendricks farm, which was once owned by her father. She was a guest at the Bert Lindeman home.

Benefit Dance.

Gaiety reigned supreme at the Hugo Hendricks barn dance last evening, given by the South Dixon people as a benefit for the Red Cross to complete the quota of that township which lacked just $80, and despite heavy expenditures they are quite confident the desired amount was made.

People came from considerable distance to attend, a number from Chicago, and many were there from Amboy, Dixon and other surrounding towns. Commanding attention were the men of Co. F in new uniforms, who went to the dance at the close of the evening drill.

The mammoth new barn, with no partitions, was ideal for this occasion, and with the Leake orchestra of Amboy playing from the top of an oat bin, an excellent substitute for an orchestra loft, dancing began early and continued in full swing until 1 o'clock. Cream and cake were served.

Some of the younger members have been turning in many gumpies and during the meeting, as her elders also knitted, little Miss Mary Dunphy, but 9 years old, sat turning a heel in a sock with all the complaisance of an expert, and it was well-turned, too. Miss Dunphy has turned in sweaters, wristlets and socks, all well made. Miss Nellie Cahill and Miss Vee Dempsey are in charge of the Walton unit.

Returned Home

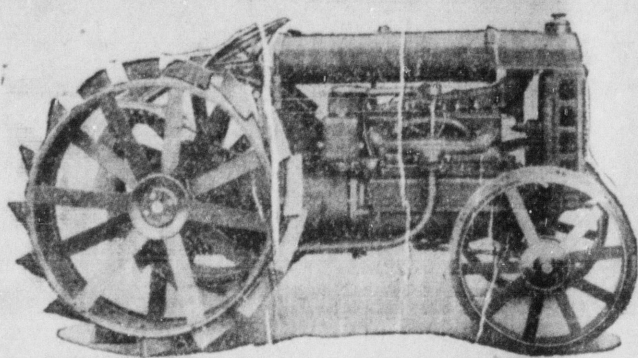

Rev. J. J. Johnson, wife and son, who, in company with Mr. J. D. Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dickey and Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bowers, left four weeks ago for Hershey, Pa., by auto, returned home Thursday. During their visit in the east they visited Rev. Johnson's birthplace and relatives at Uniontown, Pa., also Mrs. Johnson's relatives in eastern Pennsylvania, and attended the annual conference of the Church of the Brethren at Hershey.

The attendance at the conference was good, the largest crowd on Sunday, June 9, was estimated at 30,000 people. On said Sunday an offering was lifted for Red Cross amounting to $2200. Mr. Hershey had promised he would double the offering and give it in the name of the church thus raising the amount to $4400. The Sunday school offering, amounting to $627.35, was given for French and Belgium relief. The worldwide missionary offering amounted to $63,000, and seven new missionaries are being sent to India and China.

Among the various issues of business of the conference a paper was sent to Pres. Wilson asking, in this time of necessary conservation, that the use of good stuff in the manufacture of liquor be prohibited, and also prohibiting the use of tobacco land for the production of tobacco, both of these being a curse rather than a necessity. Gov. M. C. Brumbaugh of Pennsylvania, who is a member of the Church of the Brethren, gave a powerful address at the temperance meeting.

Rev. Johnson reports a delightful trip from Dixon to Hershey, the roads being good and weather fine. They returned by rail as Mr. Gruber remained in Pennsylvania with his wife and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Dickey and Mr. and Mrs. Bowers are expected to return within a few days, having remained for a longer visit with relatives.

PLAN TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC SOON IN GIGANTIC AIRPLANE

Believe Many Air Craft Will Fly to Front During Next Year

MAKE FIRST TRIP SOON

British Plan to Send a Big Plane With Crew of Four for Initial Flight

By Associated Press London Wire. Washington, June 21.—Big American airplanes should be flying across the Atlantic to reach the front by next summer, Major General Branker of the British Air Ministry said here today in a formal statement to the press. He is in Washington to co-operate with American aircraft officials, and believes the pioneer trans-Atlantic flight should be undertaken with American aid.

The enterprise must be carried out as soon as possible, General Branker said concerning the flight across the Atlantic. "There is really no reason why a considerable number of big planes should not cross the Atlantic next summer."

He disclosed the fact that the British air craft officials have definitely decided upon a trans-Atlantic flight in order to find the best route for the movement of American aircraft to the front. His mission in this city is to arrange for the pioneer flight and he hopes the United States will co-operate.

It is expected that the initial flight will be made this autumn, by the British, and it is probable that the sea boat will start from New Foundland, touching at the Azores and Portugal before reaching Ireland. It is estimated that the flight can be made in forty hours of flying.

The plans under consideration call for a crew of four men, including an engineer, a relief of two pilots and a navigation officer.

Cardboard as Drier.

Chloride of calcium is sometimes used to absorb moisture and keep certain photographic products dry, such as platinum paper or carbon paper; but a photographer has discovered that cardboard of the heavy kind will act as a good drier. The card is used in rough sheets, it being well dried by heat and then wrapped in waxed paper so as to leave only the edge of the board free and thus not absorb moisture too quickly.

THE TELEGRAPH is the oldest paper in Northern Illinois, now in 68th year, with the largest circulation of any paper in Lee county.

Emotions Make Us Human.

There is no great soul without great capacities of sorrow. As intellectual machines we may be very efficient in common life, very successful in whatever our business may be; but this is not our purpose and mastery efficiency does not make us men. They leave us pieces of effective machinery. The finer life, though it must not be exclusive and tyrannical, is that of the emotions. We feel, we suffer; therefore we are human. We crave to give and receive love; therefore we draw nearer to whatever we know of the divine.—Chicago Daily News.

Out of the Way. Colonel Hal Corbett, formerly of Kentucky, but now practicing law in New York, went to an athletic tourney over on Long Island last spring. One of the contestants showed tremendous speed and agility notwithstanding the fact that he was a one legged man. "I wonder how that young chap lost his leg?" said a friend to Corbett. "I figure that he didn't lose it; that he had it cut off purposely," said Corbett.

"In the name of heaven, why?" "So it wouldn't get in his way and hamper him when he was out winning those track events," said Corbett.—Exchange.

Contented and Discontented. The man who is discontented merely finds fault with things as they are. The man who is not contented is cheerfully determined to make things better than they are.—Youth's Companion.

Consecration is not wrapping one's self in a holy web in the sanctuary. It is going into the world and using every power for God's glory.—Henry Ward Beecher.

To the Ladies. Ladies, if you love a man, marry him. If you marry him, know him. If you know him, study him. If you study him, humor him. If you humor him, flatter him. If you flatter him, you will humor him. If you humor him, you will study him. If you study him, you will know him. If you know him, you may divorce him.—LIFE.

DECIDE YOURSELF

The Opportunity Is Here, Backed by Dixon Testimony. Don't take our word for it. Don't depend on a stranger's statement. Read Dixon endorsement. Read the statements of Dixon citizens. And decide for yourself. Here is one case of it. P. H. Kenzler, proprietor painting and decorating establishment, 722 S. Dement St., Dixon, says: "About five years ago I had a bad attack of kidney complaint. I was laid up for three weeks and couldn't do a bit of work. I had to hobble about with a stick, my back was so sore and lame. When in bed I had to be propped up with pillows. My work as a painter and inhaling the fumes from the paint, is what I blame for my kidney trouble. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Campbell & Son's Drug Store and used them. It was only a couple of days before I was back at work again." 60c, at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Decorated Graves.
Fifteen members of the Ladies of the G. A. R. Circle decorated graves of deceased members of the circle at Oakwood Wednesday evening, 31 being buried there. Mrs. Sarah Stroup passed away within the last year. All graves not bearing the G. A. R. Circle marker were marked and the ritualistic service was read by Mrs. Geo. Schmucker, patriotic instructor of the circle.

O'Malley-Blackburn.
On Wednesday morning at nine o'clock at St. Plannen's church in Harmon, occurred the ceremony which united the lives of Miss Elizabeth Blackburn of Harmon and Mr. Patrick O'Malley of Walton. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Father Moore, and was attended by a large circle of friends and relatives.

The couple were attended by Miss Kathryn Blackburn, a sister and Mr. Thomas O'Malley, a cousin.

The wedding march was played by Miss Gertrude McInterny and the Mass sung by the church choir.

The bride wore a dress of white crepe de chine and carried a large bouquet of white roses. Her sister was dressed in pink crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink wild roses.

After the service at the church the party were taken to the home of the bride's father where the members of the family circle were entertained and feasted.

During the evening hours the bridal couple motored to Dixon where they left in the Northwestern for Elgin to spend several days with relatives. Other cities will be visited during their extended honeymoon travels, for it will be a number of days before they will return and be at home to their many friends on a farm south of Dixon.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Peter Blackburn, a highly respected citizen of Harmon, and is a young lady of estimable character, well liked by all her townpeople, and carries the respect of all with whom she has an acquaintance.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin O'Malley of Dixon and is a prominent young farmer of Marion township. He has those essential qualifications which are so much admired in the business world of today and carries the good will and respect of all his neighbors.

Many beautiful and useful presents were received by the happy couple to serve as a remembrance from their friends.

We extend heartiest congratulations and wish for them a long and happy life together.

At 10:30 automobiles began rolling in discharging their quota of passengers, until 33 members and 18 guests found their way into the comfortable home of the hostess. They were soon busily engaged in the making of pajamas, the work of the day. At noon the long tables prepared for luncheon were spread with good things, heartily enjoyed by the members. The fried fish provided by the host and hostess were especially appreciated, and a vote of thanks was extended them.

Fourteen suits of pajamas were the pleasing results of the day's labor. According to the secretary's report, which followed the roll call, the unit has, in the five meetings held since organization, completed 52 pajama suits and 175 slings, surely an excellent record.

The expression "red tape," meanin-official formality, owes its origin to the use of red tape by lawyers and government officials for tying up papers. An advertisement in the Public Intelligencer, Dec. 6, 1858, offers a reward for the restoration of "a little bundle of papers tied with red tape which were lost on Friday last at seven night, between Worcester House and Lincoln's Inn." The term seems to have been satirically applied to official routine by Sidney Smith.

What They Meant.

A Scotch clergyman named Frasset claimed the title and estates of Lord Lovat. He tried on the trial of the case to establish his pedigree by producing an ancestral watch on which were engraved the letters S. F. The claimant alleged that these letters were the initials of his ancestor, the notorious Simon Fraser, Lord Lovat, beheaded in 1747 for supporting the young pretender. The letters, engraved under the regulator, were shown to stand for "Slow, Fast," and the case was laughed out of court.

Snaky.

Transplanting Plants.

When transplanting plants, shrubs, trees, flowers and so on, dig a hole much deeper than needed; fill this hole with water, allowing it to sink away three times, refilling it each time. The fourth time it sinks away you will have enough moisture at the root of your plant to last many days.
It does for it what no amount of surface wettings could ever do. So fill the hole up to the proper depth with dry earth, set your plant in and draw the dry dirt around it nicely.

Woodcocks in London.

Woodcocks, which during the past few days have been flushed "within 300 yards of the Marble arch," are by no means such rare visitants to London as some ornithologists seem to imagine, says the London Chronicle. They have from time to time been noticed in almost every park or "open space" that contains sheltering shrubs, and occasionally during very hard winters or their periods of migration, they have found temporary refuge even in the little derelict churchyards of the city. At the beginning of the last century the boys of Westminster school used to get good woodcock shooting among the wilds of Chelsea and Battersea. Most of these young sportsmen took preliminary lessons from a learned professor who lived near Dean's yard and styled himself "instructor of young gentlemen in the new art of shooting flying."

Toward the south, the premier states, the enemy was again successful in crossing the Montebelluna-Susegana railroad at several points near Nervesa station, but was promptly stopped.

On the lower Piave the Italians have gained more ground. The enemy losses during the day were enormous, the Premier added, and the Italians took several hundred prisoners.

FLED FROM GERMANY

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Copenhagen, June 21.—Four residents of Berlin attempted to escape from Germany, Thursday, in two airplanes. One plane succeeded in making a landing in Denmark and the other was brought down in the Baltic Sea by a German guard ship. The machine which escaped to Denmark had two passengers, one reserve officer and the other a professor in the University of Berlin. They said they fled from Berlin because of the conditions there.

The two machines left Berlin early Thursday. Their flight was noticed and the guard ships along the coast were warned.

The Egyptian "Fellah."

The Egyptian "Fellah" is a curious mixture of independence and submissiveness. He would never consent to the wholesale disclosure of his affairs requisite under the co-operative system. He is as secretive as the Scotchman, as land hungry as the Frenchman. He is in some ways as ignorant and as submissive to authority as the poorest European peasant. He had always obtained ample credit, but at a terrible price. For short periods he would pay 50 and 60 per cent and when, in 1890, an effort was made to create an equitable system of rural credits the average existing rate of interest for all loans was 27 per cent annum. Suspicious to a degree, he had to be approached very diplomatically by personal meetings, often repeated, before he could be convinced of the bona fides of a bank offering him money at 8 and 9 per cent. His confidence was won, however, and he proved an honest and reliable client.

A Giant in the Mountains.

Among nature's curious imitations, perhaps the most remarkable is the so-called Hooded Knight, beheld with awe by many a tourist in the Gila national forest, New Mexico. Weathered out from a volcanic peak, it presents a profile grim and impressive. For untold ages it has looked sternly down into the depths of a canyon, and very likely it will still be doing so when the last human being has vanished from the earth.

Ears Keep Growing.

An odd thing about ears is that throughout one's lifetime they continue to grow bigger. The ears of a girl, admired perhaps for their small size, are fairly large by the time she has reached middle age. In old age they may be larger. In any company of people one may notice that it is the elders that have the big ears. In the very old they are overgrown.

Color of French Flag Changed.
The color of the French flag was changed in 1124, when Louis the Fat carried the red oriflamme of St. Denis in his contests with Henry V, the German emperor.

Caution.

"No, Oswald, never drop a bouncing baby."—Cornell Widow.

"Some men," said Uncle Eben, "overworks deir plety so hand on Sunday dat dey feels called on to give it six days' rest."

Not Unassisted.
"A man," said Uncle Eben, "kin make money all by hisself. But money can't make a man all by itself."

Expert Opinion From Ossining.

A prison, they say, is paved with good resolutions.—From the Star-Bulletin.

Wicked.
Lawyer—Your swindles were enormous. How much have you left of the money? Client—Ten dollars. Lawyer—Such a spendthrift! You ought to go to jail, and I hope you will.—New York Globe.

The bricks of Babylon were cemented with hot bitumen, and at every thirtieth row crates of reeds were stuffed in.

Must Obey.

Public men are servants of many masters.

Individual Rights.
We are always talking of the rights of the individual. But unless the individual has picked up a little sense, is willing to work a little and look out for himself a little, he has no rights.—Home's Monthly.

Encouragement.

"I tell you," said Dottiepate, "I'm nobody's fool."
"Oh, well, never mind, Dotty, dear," said Miss Cynica. "Some day some nice girl will come along and take you."

The Only Failure.
George Eliot makes Felix Holt say: "I'm proof against that word failure. I've seen behind it. The only failure a man ought to fear is failure to cleave to the purpose he sees to be best. As long as a man sees and believes in some great good, he'll prefer working toward that in a way he's best fit for, come what may."

But It Did Not.

If modern diplomacy had kept pace with modern surgery it would have beaten surgery's wonderful record in life saving.—Buffalo Enquirer.

VAILE AND O'MALLEY

Avoid False Economy

ECONOMY that decreases your personal efficiency is false economy. It is as great a crime as waste. For it is waste.

Today everyone should develop their personal efficiency to its highest possible point.

We should all talk, act, believe and work to one end—success.

And nothing breeds success like confidence, for confidence and efficiency spell success.

Self-confidence is our greatest National asset.

What breeds confidence?

In the language of today, "looking the part."

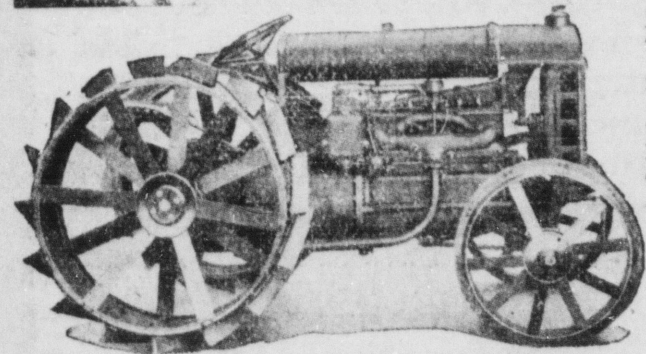

Good clothes not only make you look the part, but feel the part. They add to your self-respect and make others respect you. They add to your self-confidence and make others have confidence in you. They make you look successful and thereby proclaim that you are successful.

Good clothes do not mean extravagance. To the contrary, they mean economy. First, because of the part they play in your daily life. Second, because one good suit will outwear two ordinary suits and look better, fit better and stand up better. Thrift in clothes buying means getting one hundred cents value for every dollar you invest irrespective of the price you pay.

The clothes this store offers are 100 per cent LOYAL in this.

THE NEW "FORDSON" TRACTOR

THE above is an illustration of the new Fordson tractor, a carload of which are now on the way to George Netz and Company for distribution among the farmers of this territory at cost price. Anyone wishing detailed information can get it of George Netz.

Farmers interested in this proposition are advised not to forget the demonstration at Mooseheart, on Lincoln Highway between Aurora and Geneva next Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Netz returned yesterday from Chicago where he placed the order for the first carload of the tractors to be sold to Lee County farmers at cost, and it is believed they will be shipped in a short time. Many more orders are coming in, showing that the land workers of this vicinity will take advantage of the liberal offer.

Exiles' First Breath of Free France

Scene at Railroad Station at Evian, on the Swiss Border

Every day on the platform of the railroad station at Evian, on the Swiss border, about 1,500 returning exiles have their first breath of free France. They are the men and women and children—of no further use to the enemy, who are being returned to their own country from Germany and the conquered districts of France and Belgium. The French government requested the assistance of the American Red Cross in solving some of the acute problems at Evian, where these 1,500 people must pass through every day to make room for those coming tomorrow!

When the first trains came in, always with several cases of contagious diseases among the children, there was the constant danger of epidemics spreading through France, as these refugees scattered through the country. The first thing the Red Cross did was to establish a system of medical inspection to prevent this, and a children's hospital and dispensary, where thousands of little ones are given expert care. Several famous old monasteries and chateaux near Evian and Lyons have been made over into convalescent homes for these orphan children and the Red Cross is active in their support. Amid all the tragedy of Evian there is the thrilling hour of return to France; and in the care of the Red Cross the children sometimes find a journey's end that reminds them of the fairies.

Food Value of Fish

Extensive Use Recommended by Department of Agriculture

Further evidence that fish deserves a place in every diet was obtained from a recent series of digestion experiments in the United States department of agriculture. These tests furnished scientific proof that fish, which has always been reckoned as a valuable food, is very completely utilized in the body.

In the experiments Boston mackerel, butterfish, salmon and grayfish—a variety not generally used in this country—were made into "fish loaves" and served as a basis of a simple mixed diet to young men of healthy appetites.

Both the protein and the fat of the fish were well utilized. Following are the percentages of protein digested: Boston mackerel, 93.1 per cent; butterfish, 91.9 per cent; grayfish, 92.8 per cent; and salmon, 93.2 per cent. The percentages of fat digested were found to be: Boston mackerel, 95.2 per cent; butterfish, 86.4 per cent; grayfish, 94.3 per cent; salmon, 93.7 per cent.

In addition to the fish loaf, the diet included potatoes, crackers, fruit, sugar, and tea or coffee. On the average the subjects each day ate 440 grams of Boston mackerel, 471 grams of butterfish, 440 grams of grayfish, or 355 grams of salmon, indicating that in every case the fish was eaten with relish.

The department recently has concluded an investigation of the commercial freezing and storing of fish, and a bulletin on that subject says that this method of preserving fish will hold them for many months in the condition in which they were received, but will not counteract deterioration due to previous heating or mishandling. Chemical analysis shows no significant changes in frozen fish held for 27 months—much longer than would be necessary or profitable in storing fish commercially.

To the Point.

Some music has charms that would drive a savage to drink. Injustice often puts a man on the back while justice kicks him.

A woman often says: "It's no use talking"—but she never means it.

Some would be more likely to take hints if they could pawn them.

Moonlight Work in Gardens.

A new type of garden laborer, known as the "moonlighter," has appeared in the suburban country districts of England, owing to the shortage of general laborers. The moonlighter is a worker who is employed all day, but who is willing to earn a little extra money by working during the moonlight nights in the gardens and allotments. His is the only sort of labor that the suburbanites can now employ in the digging and sowing of the vegetable plot which every suburban householder regards as an essential part of his household.

A Gross Insult.

Lord Rocksavage caught a thief in the act of picking his pocket. He grasped the culprit's hand and, looking at it disgustedly, said as he lunged it from him, "How dare you put your hand in a gentleman's pocket without washing it first."—Boston Transcript.

Servant Girls, Please Read.

A servant girl who was kind and polite to a guest at the home where she was employed has been left an estate of $200,000, which is a story with a moral so obvious as to need no comment.—San Antonio Light.

How Big Ones Get Away.

How fishes get off the hook is always interesting, for the most-talked-of fish is the fish that got away. Chaplain Grant, who gets fish for the New York aquarium, has witnessed the remarkable manner in which morays will disengage themselves from the hook if held dangling in the air, the moray will double on himself, tie the knot and pull his head out backward. "At this juncture," says Mr. Grant, "it has always been my experience that the hook or line broke, allowing the fish to escape. Mr. Moray, however, states that he has seen morays strangle themselves when caught with strong tackle."

Weather Man's Hieroglyphics.

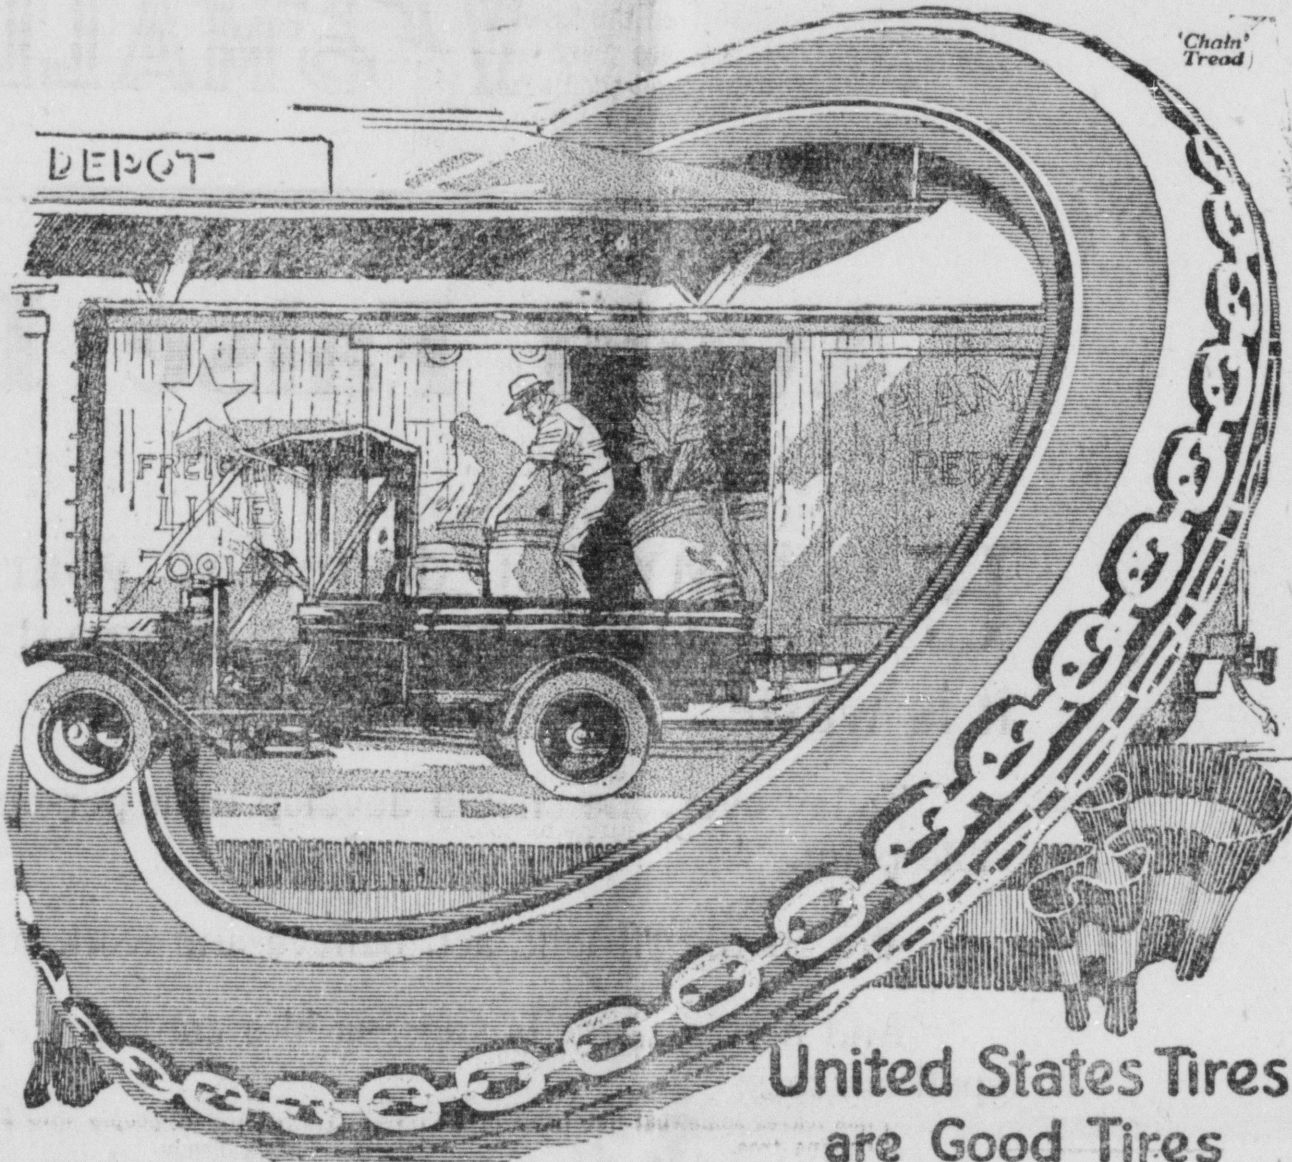

Madge had manifested much interest when she heard her father and mother talking about Egyptian hieroglyphics. It naturally followed that pictures and drawings were used as a means to make the little girl understand the term. One day when she had accompanied her father and a guest to see a cliff that had undergone a great deal of weathering, she surprised them by saying, "Daddy, if the Egyptians lived hundreds and hundreds of miles from here and no one ever lived here, then I suppose these are just the weather man's hieroglyphics on these rocks."

Hard Luck.

One day after shoveling soil on his father's allotment for two hours, little Jimmy began to cry. "What's the trouble, my little man?" asked a sympathetic bystander. "A bad tramp came along and stole the shovel from the boy in the next allotment." "Well, my lad, it's nice to be sympathetic," said the looker-on, "but you mustn't worry so over other people's affairs." "It ain't that," said Jimmy. "I'm crying because he didn't steal my shovel, too!"

Why Children Believe in Fairies.

To the children fairies stand for all the wonderful and unpredictable possibilities of life, for all the magic of it, its charm of unexpectedness. A child is a bit puzzled by the inevitable; in the fairy world it does not exist. In that world he slips away from the world of grown-ups, with its endless consequences remorselessly hounding the gay, irresponsible little-child doings. He loves the grown-ups and it is not from them that he wishes to escape, but from their world, their difficult, unyielding world.—From the Atlantic.

Proof that Some Women do Avoid Operations

Mrs. Etta Dorion, of Ogdensburg, Wis., says:

"I suffered from female troubles which caused piercing pains like a knife through my back and side. I finally lost all my strength so I had to go to bed. The doctor advised an operation but I would not listen to it. I thought of what I had read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it. The first bottle brought great relief and six bottles have entirely cured me. All women who have female trouble of any kind should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

How Mrs. Boyd Avoided an Operation.

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well."

"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARY BOYD, 1421 6th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Wasting One's Time.
It is probable that a large per cent of the money paid for work in all employments, public and private, is wasted in idling, talking, smoking and fooling around. It can be noticed every day everywhere. It is a bad symptom, says the Ohio State Journal. There is no difference between stealing one's time and stealing one's money. People are not in the habit of looking at it that way. They think it is nothing to take ten minutes of a man's time for which he is paid three to ten dollars a day. If one remembers the old adage that time is money, he will conclude he is a thief if he takes either. Character consists in making honest use of one's time, whether he works on a salary or by the minute. It is character that he insist upon, not so much the economy involved as the nobility of selfhood. That should be the treasure of every true man.

Fatigue Caused by Acid Accumulation.
The cause of muscular fatigue was one of the subjects to be explained by the candidates before the Medical Council of Canada at its last examination. Halliburton's Physiology, which is quoted as the authority, says muscular fatigue is "due to the consumption of substances available for the supply of energy in the muscle, but more particularly to the accumulation of waste products of contraction. Of these lactic acid is an important one. Fatigue may be artificially induced in a muscle by feeding it with a weak solution of lactic acid, and then removed by washing out the muscle with salt solution containing a minute trace of alkali. If the muscle is left to itself in the body the blood stream washes away the accumulation of acid products and fatigue passes off."

Caroline Herschel.
Among distinguished women who have helped to shed light upon obscure subjects was Caroline Lucretia Herschel, the noted astronomer. She was the daughter of a musician of Hanover. Her early education was designed to lead to a musical career. She accompanied her brother, William—afterward the illustrious Sir William Herschel—to England. Brother and sister soon turned their attention to astronomy, and in 1783 Caroline published a "Catalogue of Stars." Until Sir William died in 1822 she was content for the most part to be known only as his assistant, but later she engaged in many original and independent investigations. She devoted special attention to the discovery of comets, and claimed priority in the discovery of at least five.

WAR SAVINGS STAMP DAY CALL BY GOVERNOR LOWDEN

EXECUTIVE URGES ALL CITIZENS TO MEET ON JUNE 28 AND SIGN PLEDGES AS IS ASKED BY THE PRESIDENT

By GOVERNOR FRANK O. LOWDEN

The President has fixed upon June 28th as National War Savings Stamp Day. The War Savings campaign is a most important one. It will determine how generally our people are participating in the war.

Our man power is now rapidly moving to the battle front. Our Liberty Loans have been taken with great success. There are, however, millions of our people who can neither play a part in the battle lines nor subscribe to Liberty Bonds.

There are none, however, within our borders, who cannot buy Thrift Stamps or War Savings Certificates.

Back of our military lines are the patriotic forces at home. The more completely these latter are mobilized, the more irresistible become our forces at the front. There can be no better measure of our second line of defense than the number of those who shall own Thrift Stamps and War Savings Certificates.

By the purchase of these securities upon terms more favorable than even the Liberty Bonds can be bought, the humblest in the land are given an advantage over the great bankers. They who avail themselves of this opportunity serve not only their country, but serve themselves as well. Habits of thrift and economy will be formed, and thrift and economy are not only necessary to win the war, but will also be the basis of our future wealth.

I URGE UPON THE MEN AND WOMEN AND CHILDREN OF ILLINOIS THAT, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF NOON AND TEN P. M. ON FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1918, ALL WHO HAVE NOT THERETOFORE DONE SO REPAIR TO THE NEAREST PLACE OF REGISTRATION PROVIDED BY THE WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE FOR ILLINOIS, AND THERE SIGN WAR SAVINGS PLEDGE CARDS. IN THIS WAY ILLINOIS CAN SHOW THAT SHE IS HEART AND SOUL BACK OF HER SOLDIERS AT THE FRONT.

Boers Stick to Weak Tobacco.
The Boers in the Transvaal smoke something that resembles a weak tea. It has a peculiar flavor and Englishmen who have become used to it never smoke any other substitute for tobacco while in that country.

The Traveler's Tree.
A tree which serves the purpose of a spring is appropriately called the "traveler's tree." By simply cutting the leaf stem, a quantity of pure, cold, watery sap may be obtained. The tree is a native of the West Indies, and has leaves somewhat like those of the banana tree.

DISEASES OF TEETH.
The use of gold as a substitute for lead or bone as a filling was perfected in 1855 by Dr. Robert Arthur of Baltimore, while in 1884 Prof. A. D. Muller of Berlin, in his discovery of the bacteria origin of diseases of the teeth and of the large part played by lactic acid, opened the way to avenues of research which may ultimately lead to the total extinction of the dentist.

Not So Hard as Living.
All say "How hard it is that we have to die!"—a strange complaint to come from the mouth of people who have to live.—Mark Twain.

What Memory Is.

The popular notion that memory is "an association of ideas" is true. Memory, plainly, is not only made up of an association of ideas but also of associated impressions living things receive. Such associations may be due to real and necessary connections such as "iron bar," or to your mental coupling up of such associations as "blue funk," "sweet melody," "pretty girl." Habitual linkage makes the impression firmer, the retention in mind more durable and a more simple handle whereby the matter can be recalled at will.

Could Have Brought Money. Margaret's mother had decided not to have a party for her on her fourth birthday, but on the morning of the eventful day she changed her mind and told Margaret to ask the children of the neighborhood to come at two o'clock. Five-year-old Clarence came first, and had a present for Margaret. Then came others, who, on account of the short-notice invitation, had none, and Clarence looked them up and down, said: "I brought a present, didn't you?" "No," they answered. "Well, then, didn't you even bring any money?" asked Clarence.

Keeps Toothbrush Clean.

What is claimed to be a sanitary toothbrush is made with a folding handle. The handle does more than fold over the bristles of the brush. It forms a receptacle for a disinfectant which will keep the brush perfectly sterilized and antiseptically clean until it is ready for use again.

Value of Reading.

Reading means much to children, young men and young women. Reading is the key that unlocks the door of information and lets opportunity in. Reading is the beginning of an education. It gives the poor a chance to get information and become useful. Every home should be well supplied with lights, good books, papers and magazines and the children encouraged to read in the evenings.—Exchange.

SheBoyGan Couches are all of attractive designs and look well with other furniture in the living room, library or bedroom. They are comfortable as only finely tempered steel springs in abundance can make upholstered furniture when used with high grade natural moss and cotton felt. They are built to last for years under constant usage. The forty springs or more in each couch are supported by steel straps and tied with metallic clips. They simply cannot give way as the old time couch did.

For the Whole Family

No piece of furniture will appeal so universally to the members of the average family as a good couch. SheBoyGan Couches become the very center of home comfort immediately. The day's end finds them in demand from all sides. Mother will especially appreciate SheBoyGan Couch Comfort during her quiet hour in the afternoon, and after his paper is put aside at night daddy finds it a haven of rest.

Come in and choose your couch tomorrow. It may be covered with tapestry, genuine leather or guaranteed imitation leather.
